MOBILE PHONE

The international code for Italy is 0039. If you bring your mobile, there should be no problem to find a network to roam but pay attention that you will even have to pay when someone is calling you! Usually they are really high.

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

HEALTH

You will need to get a medical insurance which might be useful if you accidentally get hurt for any reason (you should bring with you at least E-111 Form for EEC citizens).

If you are looking for a pharmacy (in Italian: FARMACIA), then you have to look for a green or red cross on the streets. There are many of them so it will be quite easy to find one.

Every pharmacy is open during normal shopping hours, but there are some who are open also during the night and during holidays.

If you have some particular need or habit, don't forget to bring your personal medicine pack, since it will be probable that you will not find exactly the same here. If you follow any diet or allergies please let us know in time so that we can arrange something for you. If you need an ambulance, the 118 phone number is always the one to use.
